International Conference on Urban Tree Diversity

16-18 June 2014, Alnarp Sweden

Urban tree diversity in all its aspects, from selection and establishment to biocultural diversity, is the theme of an international conference to be held in Alnarp, Sweden during 16-18 June 2014. This research conference, hosted at the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences in Alnarp, Sweden, and organised by some of the leading international organisations within arboriculture and urban forestry (including ISA and IUFRO's urban forestry group), will discuss various aspects of urban tree diversity.

The conference's perspective on urban tree diversity will include the following topics

- Selection of urban trees.
- Urban tree diversity in design and establishment.
- Assessing diverse urban tree populations.
- Ecosystem services provided by diverse urban tree populations
- Strategies and planning for urban tree diversity.
- Urban tree management and maintenance.
- Managing threats such as pest, diseases, climate change, invasiveness.
- Exotic and native urban tree species
- Urban tree diversity and urban people diversity.
